The style professionals don't put in all that effort on the runways of New York Fashion Week 2018 just to eat $1 slices and drink at dive bars. The event has its favorite haunts — The Blond, the recently revamped Jane, Ian Schrager's Public Hotel. But there are plenty of new stylish hotspots sure to draw the elegant crowds looking to keep every moment #onbrand. Here's where to see and be seen during New York Fashion Week 2018.

The Golden Hour

Maison Premiere but outdoors? Yes, please. The striped umbrellas and palm fronds make for a semi-private outdoor hideaway beneath the High Line Hotel at the summer-only pop-up bar The Golden Hour, where you can sip frozen negronis and enjoy a weather-perfect seafood menu while wondering if that's Peyton Knight behind that frond. 180 10th Ave., thegoldenhournyc.com
